

Young Rembrandts

Young Rembrandts Step-by-Step Drawing Program is now being offered at Atonement Lutheran School. Classes will be held Wednesdays from 3:20 to 4:20, starting 3/4/09. Here are some things we would like you to know about our program. The Young Rembrandts program is process-driven, not product-based. Of course, it is the product that everyone loves! There will be a bounty of additional skills gained by your children as they learn to draw using the unique Young Rembrandts method.

Focus, Self-Discipline & Persistence

Children will spend 1 hour focused on one project. The Young Rembrandts method has them sequentially place shapes, lines and a variety of details to create their drawings. The use of these analytical skills, perceptual skills and creativity is whole-brained learning at its best. Problem Solving, Visualization & Order Sequencing As we learn to draw with Young Rembrandts, we look at our subject and learn to see its basic shapes. When we draw, we work from larger shapes to smaller details. Ask your child to name the basic shapes in different objects. As they develop these attack skills, the sky is the limit. They can draw anything!

Coloring & Attention to Detail

We teach a professional method of adding color to our drawings. Children may have used markers before, but not in this manner and not with these results. Ask your child to show you the official Young Rembrandts coloring method. These careful coloring skills will benefit many areas of their fine motor development.

Self Esteem & Positive Reinforcement

Children are nurtured and encouraged in a non-competitive environment! There are no right or wrong answers in art. We honor them for the process, as well as the product
